Tales from the Chihuahuan Desert:
Borderlands Narratives about Identity and Binationalism

National Endowment for the Humanities
A Summer Institute for Secondary School Teachers (Grades 6th – 12th)

Sponsored by The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP)
Department of English and
Department of History

In Collaboration with the Center for Inter-American and Border Studies (CIBS)
and Institute of Oral History (IOH)

July 16th – July 30th, 2017

Project Co-Directors
R. Joseph Rodríguez
Assistant Professor, UTEP Department of English

Ignacio Martínez
Assistant Professor, UTEP Department of History
Institute Core Content

The Institute aims to provide Summer Scholars with core content in two areas:

(1) an inquiry-based understanding of historiography and narratology and how they are used to interpret past and current border cultures of the Chihuahuan Desert, and

(2) an examination of the succession of binationalism and the ways in which border people have historically adapted their identities to regional and national interests.

Institute Learning Outcomes

The intended learning outcomes of the Institute are as follows:

1. To explore the range and variety of literature created by writers from the Chihuahuan Desert, both classic and contemporary;

2. To achieve an understanding of the histories and cultures of a region often stereotyped and misunderstood;

3. To provide professional development opportunities for teachers so that they can become better educators;

4. To encourage teachers, who will be from across the country and from a variety of backgrounds and disciplines, to engage each other in thinking critically about important issues in order to expand the intellectual depth and experience of all teachers; and

5. To broaden teachers’ experience and understanding as they are challenged through the historical and literary narratives explored in the Institute and through the activities and events experienced during the two-week Institute.

Historical Periods

To that end, we have identified three key historical periods and accompanying themes that coincide with the Institute’s overall goals and timeframe:

(1) The period of Spanish colonization and settlement (1600–1821),

(2) the period of American expansion and early border industrialization (1848–1950), and

(3) the period of migration, border enforcement, NAFTA, and the drug wars (1950–2010).
PROGRAM OF STUDY

Structure and Questions
The Institute named Tales of the Chihuahuan Desert: Borderlands Narratives about Identity and Binationalism examines the role of narrative in the making of history and its place in the construction of identities and binationalism.

Three questions form the foundation for inquiry-based learning in the Institute:

1. How can the study of the Chihuahuan Desert, of its history and its people, help us tell a more complete story of the American experience? American history continues to be dominated by narratives of American exceptionalism and of the heroic westward expansion of the nineteenth century. Historians Vicki Ruiz and Felipe Fernández-Armesto have called for a reinterpretation of U.S. History in order to give proper weight to its Indigenous, Spanish, and Mexican past. Over the course of the Institute we will link narratives to significant milestones in history and toward contemporary issues.

2. What can we learn about the histories and literatures of border people by examining their stories? In particular, this question will guide us in our application of inquiry-based learning about whether the U.S. literary narrative has a distinctive approach to imagining the border and which narratives are advanced as the official tale, or telling, of the Chihuahuan Desert.

3. How does binationalism inform border people’s cultures and literary production? We propose to address the dual issues of identity and binationalism to show that underneath this tumultuous history resides another story: a story of cooperation and negotiation, of amity and cultural similitude, and of national and binational identities.

APPENDIX A

Expanded Syllabus: Study Plan
July 16th – July 30th, 2017

The following schedule provides an overview of the topics addressed in each day of the two-week Institute, the general flow of activities, and the readings associated with each day. Institute readings include articles and selected chapters—some considered classics, some more recent interpretations, some written by UTEP faculty and visiting guest lecturers. Together, these documents provide valuable background and varying perspectives about our topic.

The required books as full readings should be read in advance of the Institute including the primary books assigned for the Institute. Optional related readings provide additional information on selected topics. You may refer to them as appropriate for your e-portfolio development with instructional lessons.

The course e-readings will be available to download from the Institute project’s website by June 15th, 2017.

Additional handouts—mostly primary sources and instructional lesson support—will be posted on the project website by June 15th, 2017. The handouts will available electronically throughout the two weeks of the Institute.

Each weekday is organized with morning and afternoon sessions. The mornings are dedicated to lectures and dialogue related the guiding questions and assigned readings, while afternoons will be dedicated to e-portfolios specific learning workshops, field site visits (may vary based on heat advisories), and e-portfolio development with independent study as follows:

Morning Session 8:30 AM to 12:00 PM (MT)

Afternoon Session 1:20 PM to 4:30 PM (MT)

Based on the pre-scheduled engagements only, evenings will likely begin at 5:45 PM (MT) through 8:30 PM (MT).
Sunday, July 16th: Arrival, Welcome, and Orientation

• Late Afternoon: Institute co-directors will be at the Miner Village to welcome the Summer Scholars and assist with check-in.
• Evening: Meet and greet reception hosted by UTEP at Miner Village. Food and beverages will be served.
